CREATIVE WORKSHOP at Matica

We cordially invite you to participate in our creative workshop on Croatian traditional national costumes – creating a Turopolje tie (podgutnica).

Podgutnica is a scarf that according to customs, girls used to tie around under the neck of their beloved before they left for military services. Today this tie or scarf in its original form is an integral part of the national costumes of Turopolje. With the assistance of our folklorists, participants will create their own podgutnica and keep it as a souvenir thus taking part in Matica's current exhibition „I Proudly Wear My Croatian National Costume“.
